Friends

She has two best friends. They always get together whatever they do. But... the other two girls always ignore her in this days. She gradually became jealous and angry.

Main character

One day a strange man walked to her ,
tell her : “I can help you.”

He hand over a watch and said: “You must be careful.” After saying this, he disappear.

She silently looked at the watch and found a button on it. So she pressed the button. And then... something amazing happened. Time is up. She look back at her friend around . All of them stop their move even stop their breathing.

Everything become normal after 30 seconds. She thought the strange man had given her precious 30 seconds. Hence, she started playing tricks on her two best friends. When one of them making up, she stop the time before she take away her friend's lipstick and smear it on her face.

She also messes up the other friend's hair which the girl carefully arranged.

Finally after the 9th such jokes. The black watch began to turn into a stone. But she didn't realize that she had pressed the button before petrification. She thought the world would return to normal after 30 second. But it doesn't.

She doesn't believe it. She walk out of the dormitory which found the people on the street motionless. Walk to the busiest subway station. She found everyone still like the people in other palace. She feel despair and angry.

Finally, she returned to the dormitory and found out that her two best friends is preparing her birthday party. She realized that the stranger had allowed her to watch her life carefully for 30 seconds, not play tricks to others. But she remained forever in this frozen world.

That watch allows her to go into parallel space and time. So the space she used to live in is still running smoothly.

Thank you!
